Trading CFDs and margin foreign exchange involves a high degree of risk and is not suitable for all investors. Leveraged trading carries the possibility of losses that may exceed your initial investment. You should carefully consider your investment objectives, level of experience, and risk appetite before engaging in trading. You do not own or have rights in the underlying assets. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results, and tax laws are subject to change. All information provided on this website is general in nature and does not take into account your personal circumstances. We strongly recommend that you seek independent advice if necessary, and read our legal documents carefully before trading with us.

1. Account Verification Requirements

When opening a trading account with TabTrade, clients are required to complete an identity verification process. As a regulated financial institution, TabTrade must comply with applicable anti-money laundering (AML) and counter-terrorism financing (CTF) regulations. This means we are required to verify the identity of all clients and confirm the legitimacy of the information provided.

Identity verification is typically completed with government-issued photo identification and a valid proof of address. Depending on your country of residence and the type of account you are opening, additional documents may be required.

For corporate accounts, we must also verify information relating to the entity and its authorised representatives. The specific documents required will depend on your entity structure, country of incorporation, and the nature of your business. You can find more information relating to corporate accounts on our Website or by contacting our support team.

Details of the specific documents required will be provided as you progress through the application process, including for corporate accounts.
